BRONCHITIS

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey Cures Bronchitis, Grip, Consumption and All Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

If your throat is weak, or if you are troubled in any way with grip or bronchitis, if you have consumption, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey will cure you. It aids digestion, stimulates and enriches the blood, invigorates the brain, builds nerve tissue, tones up the heart, cures malaria, ague and low fevers of any kind; fortifies the system against disease germs and prolongs life.

SURE CURE FOR BRONCHITIS

Gentlemen: Early last spring I was taken with Chronic Malaria. I began to lose flesh. Bronchitis set in and catarrh of the air passages followed. I tried most everything, but found no relief, till I took Duffy's Malt Whiskey. I commenced gaining strength, and after taking fifteen bottles I had gained 40 pounds which I had lost before I began taking your whiskey. I would advise all who have similar trouble to take Duffy's Malt Whiskey. It has cured me from troubles when nothing else would give me relief.

Sept. 7, 1902. B. C. HENNING, Coropopolis, Pa. Be careful and see that "Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey" is the only one that has the "Duffy" bottle. This is the only way Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold. If offered in bulk or in boxes it is a fraud. Beware of so-called Malt Whiskeys which are sold cheap. They injure the system.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Is the only pure medicinal whiskey which has stood the test for fifty years, and always found absolutely pure and free from fusel oil. It contains medicinal properties found in no other whiskey.

Caution.—When buying Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. The scrupulous dealers, mindful of the excellence of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations and so-called Malt Whiskey substitutes, which are put on the market for profit only, and which, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. Demand "Duffy's" and be sure you get it. It is the only absolutely pure malt whiskey which contains medicinal, health-giving qualities. Look for the "Duffy" mark, "The Old Chemist," on our label.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has cured millions of cases in the last 50 years. It is prescribed by over 7,000 doctors and used exclusively by 2,000 prominent hospitals. The genuine is

MARCHED THROUGH THREE WARS

The oldest soldier in South Carolina is James Powers, veteran of three wars. Nay, of four. For he rode with Haskell in those days when South Carolina was trodden under the heel of a despotism worse than war. And his brave old spirit marched with the boys to what might be called a fifth, although he saw more fighting in a month under Jeff Davis than he would have seen in a year around Santiago. He volunteered and the mustering officers refused to take him on account of his age.

Born July 20, 1812, James Powers of Dent, Richland county, will be 91 years of age in a few weeks. Of all the veterans who attended the reunion, he has been adjudged the oldest. For more than one reason is he entitled to the reward, for his was valiant service, though in an unpretentious capacity. In the Seminole war he followed the Stars and Stripes; all through the War with Mexico he marched against the precipitous fortifications of Santa Anna, and when the union of states was dissevered he followed Maxey Gregg and others of his comrades on former bloody fields.

Last week Mr. R. H. Edmunds offered to present the oldest veteran in Columbia a silk umbrella with a gold handle. All were surprised at the number of very aged men whose names were presented. The next oldest veteran was Mr. Livingston of Newberry, who is 88. He was a youth of 50 when Lee's ragged battalions stacked arms at Appomattox.

When Capt Starling presented the beautiful umbrella to Mr. Powers yesterday the old gentleman spoke with flashing eyes: "I am glad that I have lived long enough to get a prize as the oldest soldier in South Carolina." When he dies he will not leave the umbrella to be fussed over by his numerous relatives, but wants it buried with him.—The State, 21 inst

NEGRO TO BE HANGED.

Winter Cantey, the old negro who murdered a negro woman, Eliza Kershaw, in Columbia last winter, will be hanged in Columbia Friday of this week. Talking to a State reporter of his crime recently he said:

"Twan't me, boss," he repeated over and over again, "that did it. It was the liquor in me. In my sober senses I would not harm any one. It was because I was drunk." When he was informed that this was no extenuation under the law, he said he knew that only too well, but he wanted people to think that it was not "poor old Winter that killed a woman, but the blind tiger did it."

"Why, sir, when I am sober I would not harm a fly. But the old debbil gets in every nigger when he goes into them blind tigers. I lost God last December and if I had stopped to think I would have known that I was a ruined man when I lost him."

Cantey begged to be allowed to see his wife and efforts will be made to send her to him. The gallows will be erected early this week and the sheriff is now busy arranging the details of the execution, which will be the first one in this county in 10 years—since the hanging of Wade Haynes.

There is some question as to how Cantey will stand the ordeal. He is by no means a repulsive negro in appearance. There are two negro burglars in the jail that might be picked out of a crowd for villainous types—brutes in every lineament—but Cantey is just the reverse in appearance. He has the soft eye of the plantation negro, colored like some bit of chrysolite mineral where the white should be and is perhaps the last negro in a crowd that would be picked out to commit the heinous crime for which he stands convicted.

And as he stood with his black eyes and white teeth, the crowd of his cell there was but little of the repulsive in his shaggy-headed countenance. There was no appeal in the story he told—no begging for mercy, simply a desire to have the fact known that it was not old Cantey but the blind tiger that committed the crime. His case is but another illustration of the utter helplessness of the negro to help and to care for himself and his independence.

It has been roughly estimated that fully half the crimes among southern negroes is attributed to drink and the desire to obtain it. Were it possible to under the law keep liquor away the chances are that the percentage of crime among them would be as small as it was during the old days of slavery.

ONE RACE IN FUTURE.

Columbus, Ohio, May 24— "The human family started out as one race and there will be but one race before the end of the world. The world was divided by sin, but it is only by the working out of the law of nature that it will again be united."

This prophecy was made here today by Bishop J. W. Hamilton, the Methodist prelate of San Francisco, whose recent utterances on the race problem have aroused comment. He says that all nationalities in this country are merging into one race, the American. "The question of the mingling of the races in the south," Bishop Hamilton said, "is that unless the laws prohibiting intermarriages are repealed, some steps ought to be taken to provide for the care of the 30,000 illegitimates born annually in that section. In Key West, with its population of 30,000, scarcely 100 can lay claim to being pure white."

AS TO THIRD TERMS.

As it is generally known there is no written law which would prevent a president serving three terms or more. The precedent was established by Washington that two terms should be the limit, and since that time there has been an unwritten law, which has been of as much force as if it was statutory, that no president should serve more than two terms. Congress has, however, put itself on record as to this matter, and a resolution adopted by the house of representatives in 1875 is recalled by the Washington Post, and is as follows:

"Resolved that in the opinion of the house of representatives established by Washington and any other presidents of the United States in retiring from the presidential office after their second term has become, by universal concurrence, a part of our republican system of government, and that any departure from this time honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic, and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

This was adopted by 223 yeas to 38 nays, and should the same resolution be again introduced, it would pass by equally as overwhelming a majority. The resolution was aimed at Gen. Grant, who at that time was the idol of the Northern people and whose friends were trying to work up a third term sentiment in his behalf. If congress, representing the people, refused to endorse the third term idea then, and in behalf of a man of the popularity of Grant, it could not be expected that the precedent would be broken for any man at this day and time. It is presumed that congress had reference to consecutive terms, but the language of the resolution seems to imply objection to a third term at any time. The sentiment of the people has hardly changed on this subject. If there was no other objection to the candidacy of Mr. Cleveland, the fact that he has twice been president would be against him, notwithstanding the fact that he did not fill two terms consecutively and will have been out of office eight years when the next presidential term begins. The two term rule ought not to be broken under any circumstances, because it might be productive of great harm, especially in view of the imperialistic tendencies which have become so evident in the past few years, showing how easy it is to depart from what a great many of us thought were the settled, fundamental policies of our government.—Columbia Record.

The Wastes of the Body

Every seven days the blood, muscles and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of worn-out tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic. Sold by Crawford Bros.

COTTON ADVANCING.

New York, May 25—The cotton market today showed but a small measure of its recent excitement. Prices in Liverpool were about in line with local expectations though the near months showed less strength while the late positions were firmer. At the local opening trading was of about the ordinary volume. First prices were 3 points lower to 5 points higher and immediately following the call sentiment seemed rather bearish. Their firmness at New Orleans, however, started short covering and the market became more active. The near months regained all their opening losses and the general list showed a net advance of 9 to 18 points.

The bull leader is reported to have returned to New Orleans and the strength there was attributed to his presence, while southern buying orders received here were thought to originate from that source.

The early rally carried May to 11.60; July to 11.25, August to 10.85 and September to 9.98, but seemed to exhaust the buying power for the moment and the market again became comparatively quiet with prices showing a reactionary tendency under moderate selling for both accounts. By midday prices had sagged about 3 to 6 points from the best of the morning, but the general trading level was 7 to 13 points higher.

During the afternoon speculation was quiet, but the market showed considerable firmness reaching a level 19 to 20 points above yesterday's close with the late months showing special strength in anticipation that the weekly bureau report tomorrow would make a bullish showing. Just before the call there was considerable realizing but the market was finally steady net 2 to 13 points higher. The greatest gain was on September, which closed at 9.92; July closed at 11.15, August at 10.75, May at 11.52. Total sales were estimated at 300,000 bales.

A fire last week in St. Hyacinth, Quebec, destroyed property to the value of $400,000 and rendered homeless several thousand people.

Mr. Joseph Pomerville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richards, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by J. F. Mackey & Co., Druggists.
